

PAF® Not Yet Built

Businesses use Not Yet Built to identify the addresses of properties that are at the planning and construction stage.

Identifying new building projects helps UK businesses to deliver services, even before building begins.

Royal Mail works with every single UK authority supporting planning departments to define street names and addresses.

WORKING CLOSE

Not Yet Built allows products and services to be in place for new owners moving in.

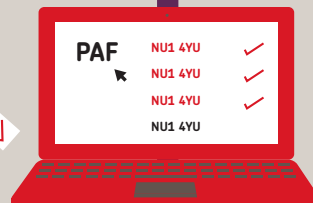

Over
5000
new records are added to Not Yet Built every month.

Our Not Yet Built database holds over 650 thousand records.

Royal Mail assigns over 26,000 new postcodes every year to over 100,000 new residential properties.

Once able to receive mail, the address details are transferred to PAF.
